LAUNCH A NEW UNDERTAKING

Playground Association is Formed.

Forming of Organization Is the Result of a Quiet Campaign That Has Been Going on For Some Time—It Has Been Duly Incorporated—Sites For the Playgrounds To Be Secured At Once.

A representative body of Greensboro women held a very interesting meeting yesterday afternoon in the committee room of West Market Street Methodist church, to perfect an organization launched several months ago by a number of public spirited and well-known civic workers. The organization to be known as the Greensboro Playground and Kindergarten Association is a duly incorporated body, enjoying under the laws of North Carolina the rights and privileges of such bodies—the right to operate anywhere in the State, to transfer real estate and transact business of any kind whatever. The movement is no new thing. There has been a quiet campaign going on for some time past, and the meeting yesterday was simply a crystalization of forces long forming—the public expression of an idea cherished for years by its originator and enthusiastic advocate, to whom belongs the credit of setting in motion the machinery which promises such gratifying results. These results, if every member of the organization will help to keep the wheels going, will be playgrounds for Greensboro—playgrounds of which the city can well feel proud and which will be of untold benefit to the rising generation.

The whole world is waking up on the playground question, just as it is waking up on the question of civic duty. The movement is international, and if the children of the future are not the healthiest, happiest and most perfectly developed, physically and mentally, in the world's history it will be the fault of the raw material and not of the earnest, unselfish workers in this broad and inviting field. That there are many of these in Greensboro is evidenced by the enthusiasm shown on every side and the cordial support promised by every one who has been approached.

The idea is to secure suitable plots in different sections of the city as soon as possible—while real estate values are not so high as to preclude the possibility of being purchased by the association. The absence of public squares, the lamentable lack of anything in the way of park improvement, is one of the first things that strikes the stranger on entering an otherwise progressive and attractive city. To supply these "breathing places," to beautify and protect the public parks is a part of the work of the playground association, a work which has been sadly neglected in Greensboro.

The officers of the new organization are: Mrs. E. Sternberger, president; Mrs. R. C. Hood, vice president; Mrs. A. R. Kimball, treasurer; Miss Meta Eloise Beall, secretary. An advisory board composed of twelve leading citizens—successful business men who are always active in good works—will lend their assistance in the management of the finances, and the business of the corporation will be conducted along safe conservative lines.

The meeting yesterday was informal and semi-social in character. After the routine business and general discussion delicious tea and macaroons were charmingly served by little Misses Vaughn and Dorothy Hood. Souvenir cards bearing the inscriptions, on one side: "Greensboro Playground and Kindergarten Association," and on the other:

"One deed there is, all others shall outlast—

were given each guest, and the meeting adjourned with visions of public playgrounds and beautiful parks for Greensboro, which are soon to be a reality.

TO FIGHT WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC

District Attorney Edward W. Sims Confers With Attorney General Wickersham Regarding Plans For the Campaign Against Iniquitous Practice—Conditions Worse Than Ever.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—A nation-wide Federal campaign against "white slave" traffickers will be started if the plans of United States District Attorney Edward W. Sims materialize. Mr. Sims is in Washington conferring with Attorney General Wickersham regarding the conditions that the investigators of the Department of Justice have disclosed. When the Mann bill was passed providing a heavy penalty for all persons engaged in the traffic of women it was supposed that many of these persons would be driven out of business. Instead of this, however, the investigators are said to have learned that more persons than ever before are engaged at the present time in the traffic.

Recently the investigators have visited the Strand "levee" district in South Chicago, which was practically wiped out a year ago in a series of Federal raids. Conditions at present are said to be worse than ever before.

Mr. Sims will ask that orders be issued to all district attorneys for a concerted action against the persons engaged in the traffic.

TENNESSEE CAMPAIGN LIVELY

"Bob" Taylor Making a Game Fight, But Tide Is Against Him.

Bristol, Tenn., Oct. 25.—The political battle in Tennessee will be very lively during the remaining days of the campaign. The personal popularity of Senator "Bob" Taylor, who has been nominated for Governor by the Democrats, has had the effect to turn many of the Independents throughout the State in favor of the new nominee. However, the number is by no means sufficient to make it certain that Taylor can be elected.

On the other hand, well-informed men are of the opinion that Taylor will be defeated by probably not less than 20,000 majority. Independent Democrats are speaking in all parts of the State for the fusion ticket, and Capt. Benjamin Cooper, the fusion nominee, is making a remarkable campaign. It is only the personal popularity of Mr. Taylor which makes it appear that the Democrats have a chance to win, and the fact that Taylor did not resign the Senatorship is accepted by his friends as meaning that he feels by no means sanguine of becoming Governor. Many of his friends take the view that they can aid him most by allowing him to remain in the Senate, where he would have one year more in office than if he were elected to the Governorship.

Taylor's whirlwind campaign has aided his cause some, but it is doubtful whether he can persuade Democrats enough to bolt the fusion ticket to carry the election.

DIX BARS "MUD SLINGING"

Democrat Vetoes Attack on Stimson—Odds 2 To 1.

New York, Oct. 25.—John A. Dix, the Democratic candidate for Governor, has given orders to the men managing his campaign that they must refrain from "mud slinging."

Nothing but Mr. Dix's wish had saved Henry L. Stimson, Republican candidate, from being asked some extremely disagreeable questions, it was said. It was intimated that the State committee had a quantity of damaging evidence against Stimson, but that Dix had absolutely refused to allow it to be used.

Mr. Dix's seclusion at his home in Thomson and his determination not to make any speeches, save a few big ones, have been features of the campaign.

Owing to the scarcity in Wall street of Stimson money, the brokers who have been intrusted with money to be wagered on Dix are sharpshooting for bets on pluralities, majorities and the like. A well-known Stock Exchange house announces its willingness to bet $1,000 to $10,000 that the vote for Dix will exceed the combined vote for Stimson and Hopper.

The odds remain 2 to 1 on Dix. One bet of $1,500 to $750 and one of $1,000 to $500 represented the big money put up during the day. There were a few small bets.

It is expected that the odds will lengthen within a day or two unless something happens to hearten up those who are figuring on betting on the chances of Stimson.

THE BUTLER CASES SETTLED.

The Costs Have Been Paid and Everything Is Straight, Legally, Except Formal Nol Pros.

The chief work of interest in Guilford Superior court yesterday morning was the non suiting of the damage suits of S. B. Adams against Marion Butler and his paper, the Caucasian. The cases were non suited, the costs in the criminal action having been paid by the defendant, through counsel. This leaves everything straight, legally, excepting the formal nol pros in the criminal cases against the Butlers and this entry will be made at the next term of Superior court for the trial of criminal cases. The cases would have been nol prossed at the last term but the costs were not provided for and the solicitor refused to nol pros unless the defendants or the prosecutor agreed to settle the costs. Owing to a misunderstanding between counsel this could not be agreed upon and the cases were continued. Now the entire costs in the civil and criminal actions have been paid and the former stricken off the calendar.

The entire day was taken up in the trial of the case of Josephine Galoway vs. Life Insurance Company of Virginia, the plaintiff seeking to recover insurance alleged to be due. The case was given to the jury late in the afternoon and a verdict for $151.58 was returned. A similar case, that of Seaboard R. Jones cs. Life Insurance Company of Virginia, was commenced.

Quite a number of cases were continued and several were non suited for one cause or the other.

Death of Infant Child.

The three months' old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Holden died yesterday morning at 9:50 o'clock at the family residence on Greene street. The funeral will take place at 1 o'clock this afternoon at the residence, conducted by Rev. W. R. Cox. The interment will be at Green Hill cemetery.

MISS LENEVE IS ACQUITTED

Dr. Crippen's Typist Found Not Guilty of Being an Accessory After the Fact In the Murder of Belle Elmore—The Courtroom Crowded.

London, Oct. 25.—After a trial lasting only a few hours in the New Bailey criminal court today, a jury found Ethel Clara Leneve not guilty as an accessory after the fact in the murder of Cora Belle Crippen, for whose death her husband, Dr. Crippen, will die on the gallows November 8.

As upon the occasion of the physician's trial, the court room was crowded with members of the legal profession and as many as could secure a place by right or influence. There was this difference in the audience: If Crippen had any well-wishers, they kept in the background, while there was a noticeable sentiment of sympathy for the girl who for love of a man nearly twice her age, had sacrificed her reputation, deserted home and friends and remained true to him, even when their association made her liable as an accessory to a brutal murder.

Miss Leneve was capably represented by counsel, who took advantage of every technicality of the law to protect their client.

According to the prosecution, Miss Leneve's relation to the crime as an accessory, began very soon after the death of Mrs. Crippen.

In the case made out against the doctor, Mrs. Crippen, or Belle Elmore as she was known on the stage, was murdered the morning of February 1 and her dismembered body buried in the cellar of the Crippen home at 39 Hilldrop Crescent. Miss Leneve stepped in the Crippen home on the day following.

As Miss Leneve sat in the prisoner's dock today she was a pathetic figure. She is 27 years of age, of medium build light brown hair, gray eyes and excellent teeth. Her face is pretty and she is trim. She wears good clothes becomingly and being naturally buoyant and affable, she is a prepossessing woman.

She was attired in the same neat blue costume which she wore at the preliminary hearing in the police court. She entered the dock between two wardresses and remained standing during the few minutes occupied by the swearing in of the jury.

Miss Leneve was an object of keen scrutiny on the part of the women, who composed the majority of the spectators. In reply to the formal charge of being an accessory after the fact to the murder of Belle Elmore, the girl pleaded "not guilty" in a voice that was scarcely audible.

Petition In Bankruptcy.

In United States Bankruptcy court yesterday a petition against W. F. Lovill, of Mt. Airy, was filed, asking that he be adjudged bankrupt. After hearing the petition, which was presented by Jenkins Bros., of Winston, and the George DeWitt Shoe Company, of Lynchburg, Judge Boyd signed an order appointing D. D. Hawkins temporary receiver and citing the alleged bankrupt to appear in court on Nov. 1 to show cause why the receivership should not be made permanent.

CONDEMNED BY OWN LEADERS

Republican Party in State Doomed.

Whitehead Kluttz, of Salisbury, Says Utterances of Prominent Republicans In Greensboro Are Enough To Damn Any Political Party—Brilliant Young Democrat Made Rousing Speech Last Night That Was Well Received.

Last night in the court house Hon. Whitehead Kluttz, of Salisbury, made a rousing political speech that was well received by a large audience. The brilliant young orator was at his best and for more than an hour his hearers were thrilled and enthused by the message he pressed upon them in a pleasing and convincing manner. Mr. Kluttz as a platform speaker has few equals and no superiors among the younger men of the State. His stock of information is complete and he has a stock of jokes that are used most advantageously. He knows how to engage and hold his audience.

Mr. A. Wayland Cooke presided over the meeting and he called on Mr. Thos. S. Beall to introduce the speaker. Mr. Beall in his introduction spoke most flatteringly of Mr. Kluttz, who was roundly applauded as he arose.

Mr. Kluttz said that he was glad to be in Greensboro and the next minute caused a roar by expressing the hope that the census people would give Greensboro fully 40,000 people. But most of all he was glad because this was the place in which so many Republican leaders had said so much to the discredit of the Republican party in the State. He then repeated ex-Judge Bynum's remarks regarding the Republicans ever being at war, some remarks by ex-Judge Adams showing the party up in the worst possible light, quotations from the Republican organ saying that the issue was Butler, Booze, Boodle and Bonds, and concluding by repeating the remarks made by President Taft when he was in the city some years ago. The utterances of these Republicans in Greensboro were enough to damn any political party, said Mr. Kluttz.

Defining Democracy the speaker said that it was a faith that beats with the blood of purity. It stands for the rights of man and offers special privilege to none. It is good for the young man, he said, because it offers him opportunities; holds the door wide open. In the Republican party the door of opportunity is being closed tighter and tighter. He said that he could not tell what Republicanism was, there were so many different branches going by the same name. From Maine to California the light is breaking, said Mr. Kluttz, and the truth is marching on.

The speaker turned his attention to the tariff and declared that if the 91 per cent tariff tax was levied directly there would be a war that would make the Civil war insignificant. He urged his hearers to arouse and refuse to support such tariff making representatives. Every indictment of the trusts is really an indictment of the Republican party, he said. He pointed out that the tariff does not increase wages as the wages paid those who work on the highest protected articles are the lowest. Nor does it increase the cost of farm produce. The Republican party, said Mr. Kluttz, has abandoned nearly every position it has taken regarding the tariff, and because it saw the positions were groundless. The Republicans say they are opposed to pauper labor, yet the Democrats were the only ones in Congress that voted against this labor, he declared. The actions of the party leaders in fighting the reduction on certain articles were condemned by Mr. Kluttz, who dwelt especially on the refusal to lower the tariff on woolen goods after the Tuberculosis Association in Washington had declared that the fact that a large number of people could not get sufficient woolen flannels to wear caused a considerable increase in the ravages of consumption in the country. We are Americans first and partizans afterwards, declared Mr. Kluttz.

The Republican party is looking especially after the larger interests and, allowing the masses of the people to do the best they can. The Democratic party extends equal rights to all and special privileges to none, declared the

FUNDS FOR REVOLUTION

Some Big Interests Back of Portugal's Upheaval—$1,000,000 Paid Committee.

London, Oct. 24.—That the revolution in Portugal which hurled Manuel off his throne was brought about by big financial interests is the declaration of the political writer of the London Penny Illustrated Paper, which makes a specialty of international political news. The natural feeling of revoult among the Portuguese people, the writer declares, was fostered to the point of an uprising.

"When the Portuguese Minister of Finance informed the colossal Chartered Company of Mozambique that the government contemplated imposing increased taxes upon both the profits of the company and also upon its property in Southeastern Africa, composed of a fleet of river steamers extensive gold mining machinery, tramways and an immense area of India rubber-bearing territory," says the paper, "the fall of the government and with it the house of Braganza was assured.

"King Edward's friendship for the Marquis De Soveral, the Portuguese minister in England, made action temporarily impossible,, for the king could always contrive in the thousand and one ways that were open to him to checkmate any hostile movement that emanated from London or Paris against the powers that were in Portugal. His death made the way clear for the English and French wirepullers.

"King Edward was aware that the dangers at Lisbon were not from the republicans in Portugal, but from those who could use them as instruments. Their use has cost these gentlemen about 200,000 pounds ($1,000,000), a sum which in English gold was transferred to Oporto a few weeks ago. The money was handed over to the Central Revolutionary Committee and under the supervision of an English ex-officer was partly used for the payment of a considerable corps of hired filibusters, who at the psychological moment blocked cuttings and tunnels, blew up bridges, tore up rails, cut the telegraph wires and did all manner of things to isolate the Portuguese capitol from the rest of the world.

"King George's government had no cognizance of what was being planned, but now it will have the felicity of learning that the new republic is prepared to offer, for a stiff price, Delagoa Bay to England. And so at last will be acquired the true gate to South Africa.

"Several great corporations are holders of shares in the Mozambique company. Notable is the Oceana company, which was the inspiration of an Anglo-Teutonic millionaire who has consistently exhibited a pleasure in fishing in the troubled waters of politico-commercial finance.

"It was such interests as these that pulled the wires of the Supreme Council of the revolutionary committee in Portugal. These interests have helped to finance many a scheme of conflicting international interests, but in the romantic adventure of upsetting a royal house, subsidizing an army and navy, and employing an English ex-officer of the Dragoon Guards to isolate from the rest of the world a European capital, the Congo and Mozambique group of financiers has risen to a record in the chronicles of cosmopolitan intrigue."

"WEIGHT OF THE SOUL."

English Authority Ridicules Alleged Demonstration.

"There is a popular notion that the weight of the living body is less than that of the dead one," says a writer in the Lancet. "In a recent issue of the Pioneer Mail, a correspondent discusses this question in connection with the behavior of a crocodile which he shot dead while it was baking asleep on a quicksand.

"When shot the crocodile began to sink and almost disappeared before it could be reached. The correspondent is clearly inclined to accept the popular notion of an increase in weight at death but for the fact that "recent experiments undertaken by some unlearned authorities in America have proved that a dead body was lighter than a living one. From this they (the learned authorities) deduced that the soul had a definite weight in pounds avordupois.

"It is possible that some of our readers are unfamiliar with the experiments to which this correspondent of the Pioneer Mail refers. They were made and recorded a few years ago by Dr. Duncan Macdougall, of Haverhill, Mass. Patients were weighed in the act of dying. The scale used recorded an increase or decrease beyond the fifth of an ounce —not a particularly delicate instrument for estimating the weight of that part of the living body which is usually regarded as immaterial and imponderable.

"In the first of a series of six experiments, Dr. Macdougall placed a man dying from pulmonary tuberculosis on the scales. The patient lost weight at the rate of one-sixtenth of an ounce per minute until the moment of death when the beam end dropped with an audible stroke, showing a sudden decrease of three-quarters of an ounce in weight. What was the cause of the sudden decrease? Dr. Macdougall, after excluding the loss due to escape of breath and fluid contents of the body by evaporation or other natural means, concluded that the marked and sudden decrease was due to escape of the 'soul substance.' In this particular instance the soul was evidently a very material one, weighing three-quarters of an ounce.

"The experimenter extended his observations to dogs, but the results gained were negative. At the moment of death, the dog's body refused to show any alteration in weight. We are of the opinion that the correspondent of the Pioneer Mail in seeking to explain the disappearance of the shot crocodile in the quicksand need not take his 'learned authorities' too seriously. Dr. Macdougal's observations are to be explained by a peculiar bias on the part of his scales or on the part of the friends who assisted him. At least the scales used by other investigators have refused to reveal any sudden diminution in the weight of the body at death.

"In the usual acceptation of the term death occurs when respiration and circulation have ceased, but in a more strict sense the death of the body is gradual, the muscular system, for instance, being really alive some hours after the apparent death of the inidvidual."

Strenuous Hint.

The autumn leaves were beginning to let go as she and he sat in the trusty hammock, side by side.

"I wonder why a young man rocks the boat when he takes a girl for a row?" she asked.

"Oh, I suppose he does it just to hear the girl scream," he replied.

"But," she said, "a girl would scream just as loud if he attempted to kiss her, and it's ever so much safer."—Chicago News.

CHURCH AND STATE

By AGATHA L. BREWER

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

Cawky Jack was the sobriquet applied to one of the most villainous demons that ever infested any of the territories belonging to the United States. His name was said to be John Biggers, but that was only surmised from the fact that on one occasion, having killed a man and been arrested, he had been called upon to give his name and had given that one.

For a long while Cawky Jack was accustomed to put people out of his way by means of small round leaden balls. It was a very inexpensive way of doing it, and at the time there was no one in a position to make open objection. But the original venomous nest occupied by Jack grew to be a hamlet, then a town with a church.

The deacons of the church finally came to consider that the place had outgrown Cawky Jack. He must either be reformed or got rid of. At a meeting of the deacons it was decided to send a committee to the desperado to announce to him that he must either come within the fold of the church or stop killing people or "git out." Jack sent back word that he was not prepared to become a Christian and he didn't propose to leave a place in which he had lived so long and "whose boneyard he had done so much to fill."

At a meeting of the deacons to hear the report of the committee Deacon Riggs from Tennessee, who before his conversion had done the next most to Jack in filling the said boneyard, got up and spoke as follows:

"Brethren, I reckon we'ns all air reckensiled to the fac' that the sinner must be removed, pervided it kin be done accordin' to Scripture. Now, I hold that the good book doesn't nowhar forbid us to strike down the enemies o' the Lord. It does say that 'he who smites with the sword shall perish by the sword,' or words to that effect. But whar, I'd like to know, does it say anything about the revolver? I move that after pra'r we resolve ourselves into a committee to go forth, and the fust one of us that meets Cawky Jack opens fire."

The speaker sat down, and Brother Hargan arose.

"I think," said Hargan, "that I kin name a better way than that. I reccymend that we offer a twenty dollar bill to any man as 'll shoot Cawky Jack."

Since nobody wished to take a personal part in the job, the motion found favor with the brethren. Hargan was empowered to make the offer, and the meeting adjourned.

The next morning a notice appeared on the church door stating that anybody who would shoot Cawky Jack would receive $20 from the church funds. The object of this notice, sauntering by the church, saw it and read it. He went on very thoughtful. The next day he expressed a desire to meet the deacons, and they agreed to meet him that evening in a wing of the church used for a Sunday school room. When they were assembled Jack arose and said:

"I appreciate the effort o' you gents in tryin' to make this yere a respectable community. But I allus hearn thur's no gov'ment so low down as the gov'ment o' the richeous. The church is fer spiritual work; the law is fer gov'ment. Now, if you gents will organize a court in this yere town as 'll make a law agin carryin' weepons I'll be the fust to drap mine."

Since this was coming in another way at what the committee wanted they agreed to the proposition, called a public meeting, and a court was duly organized. As soon as this was effected Cawky Jack swore out a warrant against the deacons, charging them with conspiracy with intent to kill him. The people were somewhat taken aback at this proceeding on the part of the legally reformed Cawky Jack, but the newly elected officers saw no way to proceed except in accordance with the statutes. The deacons were all arrested, but immediately bailed.

Their counsel, a real lawyer imported for the purpose of defending them, informed them that a long term of imprisonment was the penalty fixed for their crime and the proof was undisputable. They unanimously decided to return to Deacon Riggs' plan.

The Tennesseean was himself the first man to meet Cawky Jack after the decision.

"Howdy, deacon?" said Jack.

"Howdy, Jack?" replied the deacon.

"How is the law workin'?"

"First rate. It's church and state together. The law says 'Carry no weepons.' The church says 'Smite him hip and thigh.'"

There was a report and Jack fell dead.

This removed the prosecutor of the deacons, and a nolle prosequi was entered.

The little wooden church on whose door was tacked the offer for the elimination of Cawky Jack is now an eminently respectable stone edifice, and its worshipers are refined people. Its founders seemed to realize that the moral incidents attending their early efforts in its behalf were crude, for in the "boneyard," now the cemetery connected with it, is a marble headstone on which is inscribed:

CAWKY JACK.
A victim in the cause of religion.

Edgar Allan Poe is in New York's hall of fame at last. It is very discreditable to New York that there was any delay about it.

Postmaster General Hitchcock is out with some figures showing an alleged reduction of the postoffice deficit. The report was evidently intended to boost Republican campaign prospects.

At a swell wedding in New York three Japanese dogs were attendants. If they have got to have dogs at these swell weddings, they certainly ought to have the patriotism to procure American dogs.

Marion Butler criticizes the Democratic anti-trust law saying that it is meaningless. But how can he do that, seeing that that was the only sort of a law the Republicans in the Legislature would support? Of course his criticism is mere political bluster.

Delancey Nicoll, of counsel for the Press Publishing Company, which the government is suing in the Federal courts on a very flimsy excuse, declares the case to be a "legal curiosity" and concluded his argument with the following very interesting words:

As a matter of fact, the prosecution was premature, born before its time, belonging to a new dispensation when the Federal government had taken to itself all power and authority and the States been reduced to mere geographical districts; when the Federal tribunals shall no longer decide cases in accordance with precedents and the law, but according to the needs of the time as interpreted to them by some steward of the public welfare.

Anybody but Steward Roosevelt would have been content to follow the usual procedure and sue in the State courts, but with true imperialistic arrogance the Colonel demanded that precedents be violated and the thing be done just as he wanted it done. Really, the only living ex-President is a very unsual individual.

What's the matter with Baltimore? every one is asking since it became known that the Monumental City has fallen from sixth to seventh place in the list of great cities as shown by the last census. Harmon Stewart, of that city, discussing the matter the other day located the trouble in the failure of Baltimore to take full advantage of its advertising opportunities. Said he:

The newspapers of the day present to the retailer and the manufacturer a mouthpiece whereby they can tell what they have to sell, where it can be purchased and the means of getting to the place where the articles are sold. Hundreds of merchants and manufacturers are clamoring for an advertising medium that will supply their wants, that will be productive of results, and they continually overlook the daily papers, with their great circulation—a circulation that goes into every home, and not thrown from the vestibules, as are circulars, but carried in and read by from one to ten members of the family.

Surely a business man should spend his money on newspaper advertising rather than on circulars. The circular is thrown by the wayside, the newspaper is carried into the home and read by every member of the family that can read. Besides in dealing liberally with the newspapers, the business man helps to advertise the city as a whole as well as his individual business and thus reaps an indirect as well as a direct benefit. Charlotte is the largest city in North Carolina. Charlotte is also the place where the merchants are the most persistent and liberal advertisers in the local newspapers. There is surely a connection between these two facts.

The most remarkable Press picture ever obtained was undoubtedly the photograph of the actual exploding of the bomb which was thrown at the King and Queen of Spain on the occasion of their Majesties' wedding. It was secured by a Halftones operator, one of the largest firms of Press photographers, whose business was recently acquired by the Central News.

The photograph proved a veritable gold mine, for it appeared in close on three thousand publications, including, of course, foreign, Colonial, and American journals.

The photograph was secured more or less by a piece of good luck. The operator was on a stand with his camera in the place allotted to him by the police, waiting for the procession to appear; the camera was placed facing down the street up which the procession was to come. From the moment it came in sight until the Royal carriage was within about thirty yards of him the operator secured three pictures. He then readjusted the camera so as to get a good picture of the King and Queen in their carriage, which was about ten yards from him. At the same instant as the operator pressed the ball and exposed a plate a dark object was hurled at the Royal carriage from a balcony-window, and then followed instantly a blinding flash and a noise like a thunder-clap. The operator was hurled half-stunned to the ground, his camera following him. When he was able to stand he saw a terrible scene below him. The large crowd was stampeding in all directions. Anyone luckless enough to fall in that storm of rushing humanity was instantly trampled to death, and several did fall. Some thirty people in all were killed on that occasion, of whom at least half were simply crushed or trampled to death in the panic that followed on the explosion. It is very remarkable that all the plates in the operator's camera were broken with the exception of the last one he had exposed, which depicted the actual scene at the moment of the explosion.—From "The Romance of Press Photography" in the November Strand.

Mr. Nowell has been with the "corner" drug store since its first opening by the Galloway Drug Company. Considerable interest is being taken in the football contest tomorrow afternoon at Cone park between the High School and the Local Stars. CITY UNION OF THE PHILATHEAS

An Unusually Helpful and Enjoyable Meeting Held Last Night With the First Class of the First Presbyterian Church.

The Philathea City Union held an unusually helpful and enjoyable meeting last evening with the First Presbyterian Philathea class in the Smith Memorial building. Miss Myrta Ham, president, presided over the business meeting which was opened by singing the Philathea national hymn and prayer by Miss Florence Cain. It was found that the classes of the following Sunday schools were represented: First Baptist, First Presbyterian, Centenary M. E., Asheboro Street Baptist, West Market M. E., Forest Avenue Baptist, Reformed, Moravian. This was the time for the election of officers. A nominating committee, appointed by the president, made the following report, which was unanimously adopted:

Miss Vallice Sanders, president; Miss Alice Ledbetter, vice president; Miss Vivian Rogers, secretary; Miss Dora Grundman, treasurer; Miss Flossie Byrd, press reporter.

The Jamestown convention being the topic of paramount interest to all Philatheas during the summer, a request for an additional report of some part of this great gathering was responded to by the Union's delegate, Miss Flossie Byrd. She gave a report of one of the convention addresses on "How to Cultivate the Doing Side of the Class," the subject being divided as follows: 1. By prayer. 2. Power (spiritual power gotten by establishing the "quiet hour" of communion with God). 3. Keep "unceasingly at it." 4. Have faith in yourself. 5. Have faith in God. 6. Have faith in others.

Beautiful music, consisting of vocal solos by Misses Florence Cain and Beatrice Byrd and piano solos by Misses Byrd, May Dorsett and Irma Mourer was heartily enjoyed and applauded by the young women. After the business session there was a happy social hour in the ladies' parlor which was beautifully decorated in red and green, the Philathea colors. Delightful sandwiches, coffee and grapes were served by the Presbyterian class.

The Union is greatly indebted to this class for the interesting and enjoyable evening. Under the leadership of their consecrated leader, Mrs. L. Richardson, they are developing a band of young workers who are making themselves felt in every department of the church work.

The Union is proud to announce the visit of the National field secretary, Miss Daisy Eckert, who is booked for Greensboro Nov. 22. A big rally will be arranged for this occasion.

Vice President James S. Sherman will make a political speech in Greensboro tomorrow under the auspices of the State Republican Executive Committee. He will speak at noon and the address will most likely be in the opera house.

It is expected that the Vice President will get here on a special train from Raleigh early tomorrow morning. During the forenoon several committees will call on him and welcome him to the city. At 11 o'clock he will hold an informal reception at the Guilford hotel when the public generally will have an opportunity to meet him.

AN OPEN LETTER

President Dudley Writes Tendering Auditorium and Dining Room of A. & M. College For Use In the Entertainment of Booker T. Washington.

The Telegram is requested to publish the following open letter to the chairman of the Booker Washington reception committee:

Greensboro, N. C., Oct. 25, 1910.

Dr. S. A. Peeler, President Bennett College, City.

Dear Sir: ,

As you are the chairman of the Booker Washington reception committee, I beg to address this note to you.

You doubtless are aware that the North Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical College is about the only college for negroes in North Carolina that is devoted exclusively to industrial training: you will probably be willing to admit that among negro schools the A. & M. College in this state is the most pronounced exponent of industrial education. You will readily admit that Dr. Booker T. Washington, for whom we are preparing, is about the most conspicuous champion of that especial form of education for which the A. & M. College so emphatically stands. Therefore, I am sure it will not surprise you, and I trust it will surprise no one to learn that the teachers and students of the A. & M. College are especially interested in sharing somewhat in the honor of meeting, hearing or of entertaining our most prominent leader of industrial education. For this reason, in behalf of the A. & M. College students and teachers, I beg to tender to you the auditorium and dining rooms of the A. & M. College in which to have dinner, banquet or reception in honor of our distinguished guest.

If you do not feel that you or your committee should deal with this matter, will you do us the kindness to have the request we are sending you forwarded to the proper committee.

As this matter is entirely of a public nature, and as we want the public to know our attitude, I am taking the liberty of sending you the request in open letter with sincere assurance that offense thereby is intended to no one.

On behalf of the A. & M. College, I am

Very truly yours,
JAS. B. DUDLEY,
President.

Before Judge Eure.

In Municipal Court yesterday morning Sandy Neil and Walter Calder were arraigned on the charge of engaging in an affray. They were let off on payment of the costs. Julius Weaver was sent to the workhouse for 30 days on the vagrancy charge. Frank Powers, who was charged with embezzlement, was found not guilty. This defendant is the party locked up Monday night on the charge of taking some change that did not belong to him.

Revival At Grace Church.

Rev. John A. Burgess is preaching some very strong sermons at Grace M. P. church. He will preach again tonight at 8 o'clock, following a song service beginning at 7:30. The public is cordially invited to attend these services.

Come to the Centenary Bazaar, 527 South Elm street, for bargains in matting, cook stoves, lap robes and numerous other useful things.

Proposals Invited.

Sealed proposals will be received by the undersigned until 10:30 o'clock of Thursday, Nov. 10, 1910, for the erection of the Central High School building for the city of Greensboro, N. C.

The successful contractor must furnish a satisfactory surety bond in the sum of one half the amount of his bid, within two weeks from date of award, and as a guarantee of furnishing said bond each bid must be accompanied by a certified check in the sum of five hundred ($500.00) dollars made payable to the undersigned, said check to be forfeited if the bond is not furnished.

The right is reserved to reject any and all proposals.

(Signed) CHAS. H. IRELAND.

CONDEMNED BY OWN LEADERS.

speaker. Mr. Kluttz here took up the prosperity subject and spoke of the idle mills, dull business and tight money conditions.

Before closing Mr. Kluttz took up the issues in the State. He stated that every time the Republicans had gotten in power disaster followed. In the history of the State where you find the pages darkened you will find that it was written by Republicans and the pages that are bright with prosperity and good works you will find they were written by Democrats, declared Mr. Kluttz. He mentioned the names of Vance, Aycock, Glenn, Kitchin and others as compared with the names of the Republican governors. The Butler bond issue was not forgotten by the speaker and he fearfully stormed the fortress behind which the Republicans have taken refuge when pressed upon this point. The local self-government plank was not allowed to go unobserved.

The Democratic party means a stepping onward and upward, while the Republican party means just the opposite. The speaker urged his hearers to compare the records of the two parties in this State and vote accordingly. Many times during the speech Mr. Kluttz was compelled to pause on account of the thunderous applause that greeted his sallies of wit and thrusts at the Republicans. On his conclusion he was applauded several minutes as if the audience wanted him to proceed.

LAST WEEK FOR REGISTRATION

There seems to be an idea prevalent among a good many people that when they move from one precinct to another they may get a transfer certificate of some kind from the Registrar directing the Registrar in the other precinct to register them. But such is not the case. There is no such such thing as a transfer certificate. In case of any removal of four months or more, the party must register anew, by taking the oath as to residence, etc. If the party has a certificate of "permanent registration" sibned by the Clerk of the Superior Court of the County in which he registered two or more years ago, that will entitle him to register so far as the educational qualification is concerned, but in any event he must take the oath as to length of residence. It is the duty of every patriotic voter to see that his name is properly on the books.

The books close next Saturday at sunset.

INCREASE WEIGHT QUICKLY.

Simple Way for the Thin and Pale to Be Plump and Rosy.

Samose can hardly be termed a medicine, it is in reality a flesh-forming food. Taken before or after meals, it mingles with the food you eat, enables it to assimilate and readily digest, so as to make rich blood and pleasing plumpness.

After Samose has been used a week or ten days a noticeable gain in weight is seen. The sallow complexion will become rosy, the sunken cheeks will have a ruddy glow, the eyes will be bright, the breath sweet and the step elastic.

Howard Gardner's customers have told him of the remarkable results following the use of Samose, the great flesh-forming food, and he is so thoroughly convinced of its reliability that he is selling it under his personal guarantee to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it.

FOUR PER CENT. PAID ON SAVINGS DEPOSITS.—FOUR PER CENT.

THE DIFFERENCE

between a dollar saved and a dollar spent is just two dollars. Did it ever occur to you that way? It's worth thinking about.

Another difference is the feeling you have afterward. The dollar saved gives you a feeling of real pleasure—it may call for a little sacrifice for the time being, but afterward you feel better for having denied yourself and the dollar is still yours. That is the nice thing about having money in the bank—you have saved it—it is still yours—you can have it when you wish.

We make it a part of our business to urge you to have a bank account at this bank, for it not only helps our business but yours more so.

INFLAMED KIDNEYS

Medical writers declare it incurable after the six month whether albumenous or not.

The average man prefers to think of it as "kidney trouble" and lets it go but the census shows this appalling fact—out of 63,000 deaths from kidney troubles the last census year over nine-tenths of them (58,000) took the form caller "Bright's Disease" although it is quite probable that nine-tenths of these up to the last moment thought of it as and called it "kidney trouble" when as a matter of fact the only possible hope laid through a specific for Bright's Disease.

There never was one until Fulton worked out his Renal emollient (Fulton's Renal Compound).

Since then inflammation of the kidneys whether albumenous or not or whether called "kidney trouble" or "Bright's Disease" or whether six months or six years old commonly yields.

If you have had kidney trouble over six months no matter what you call it it is the only hope. Efficiency 87 per cent where patients do not wait until bedridden although some of them recover. It can be had in Greensboro at the Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

We desire to hear from and advise with patients not noting the usual improvement by the third bottle. Literature mailed free. Write John J. Fulton Co., 645 Battery street, San Francisco, Cal.

GOES MAD WHEN GIRL HE LOVES REJECTS HIM

Letter Carrier, Prevented from Leaping from Window, Devours Part of His Hand.

New York World.

Because the girl he loved refused to marry him, Peter Serembe, twenty-four, a letter carrier, living at No. 2039 First Avenue, became violently insane yesterday and was restrained from throwing himself from a window to the street. He then attempted to kill himself by devouring his hand.

Serembe, his father says, considered himself engaged. He had been saving his money to get married. Thinking he had a sufficient sum he called upon the young woman last Friday evening and proposed to her. She rejected him, telling him that she loved another and could not marry him.

Serembe then became so morose that his father, John Serembe, with whom he lives, kept a careful watch over him. While sitting in the house yesterday the young man arose from his seat suddenly and dashed for the window. He attempted to throw himself to the street, but was prevented by his father.

The father's act incensed the demented man and he started to eat his right hand. He had torn several strips of flesh from his hand before his father called in Policeman Powell. The two got the young man to the East One Hundred and Fourth street station after much difficulty. He fought and screamed the entire distance, attracting a large crowd. An ambulance from Bellevue Hospital was called and Serembe was taken in a straightjacket.

The elder Serembe told the police he did not know the name of the young woman who had rejected his son, nor where she lived. The son was very secretive about his wooing and had raved and cried about the girl continuously since she refused him.

Capt. Bogardus Again Hits the Bull's Eye.

This world famous rifle shot who holds the championship record of 100 pigeons in 100 consecutive shots is living at Lincoln, Ill. Recently interviewed, he says:—"I suffered a long time with kidney and bladder trouble and used several medicines, all of which gave me no relief until I started taking Foley Kidney Pills. Before I used Foley Kidney Pills I had severe backaches and pains in my kidneys with suppression and a cloudy voiding. On arising in the morning I would get dull headaches. Now I have taken three bottles of Foley Kidney Pills and feel 100 per cent better. I am never bothered with my kidneys or bladder and again feel like my own self." Sold by Howard Gardner.

Recipe For a Flower Garden.

Take twenty square yards of sand and pebbles, stir in sufficient clay to make a compact water tight mass, ram down hard and score the surface with a rake. Add carefully ten packets of seeds of the most magnificent flower known that will grow anywhere and under any conditions, throwing up a continuous succession of enormous flower trusses from March to November, each petal five inches across and of the richest and most glowing tints. This is the commonest of all flowers and will be found listed on any page of any florist's catalogue. Set the whole out to rise, keeping it moist and warm. After allowing the mass to rise four months sprinkle red spiders and green aphides plentifully over the top and soak well with tears. The net result may be preserved in a small bottle of alcohol for future reference.—Philadelphia North American.

An Open Air Hotel.

A man from the west was looking for a friend in New York who had gone wrong. He heard his friend had been sleeping on the benches in Bryant park and went over there to look for him. There were a good many unfortunates on the benches, but the particular friend the westerner wanted to find was not there. However, the westerner did find another man from his own town whom he knew and who knew the man for whom he was searching.

"Where's Jones?" asked the westerner, prodding the man he knew.

"Aw," replied the hobo sleepily, "he ain't come in yet."—New York Sun.

Nothing More to Be Said.

"My wife always lets me have the last word," remarked the meek looking man.

"Indeed!" exclaimed his friend in tones which implied a doubt of the other's veracity.

"She does, really. Whenever I say 'Yes, my dear, you are quite right,' she stops talking immediately.

"Two bottles Cured My Rheumatism"

"I have been a sufferer from rheumatism for about two years, and have used many liniments and patent medicines which gave me no relief. A lady friend of mine told me she had used your Liniment and found relief at once. I got two bottles and they cured me. I think it is the best Liniment a person can have in the house. I shall always keep a bottle in my house as long as I can get it."—MRS. E. R. WALLACE, Morrisons, Va.

DYING BABY IN SUIT CASE.

Was Gagged and Abandoned by Woman in Broad Street Station.

Philadelphia Record.

Packed closely in a small suit case, a dying girl baby was yesterday found in Broad Street Station, and the mite of humanity, that had evidently been cruelly handled, died shortly after it reached Hahnemann Hospital. The baby was apparently only about two days old, and the police are looking for a woman who was seen about the station by a porter, carrying a suitcase very much like the one in which the tiny girl had been crowded.

Reserve Officer Reeves was told by one of the railroad employees that he suspected that there was somthing wrong about the abandoned suitcase. Reeves opened the case and was startled at the sight of the still breathing baby. He found it had been gagged with a strip of lace, one end of which had been forced down its throat. This was removed by the hospital physicians, but they were unable to save the infant's life.

The little body had been wrapped in a small blanket and a woman's blue skirt, well worn, a shawl, two pieces of cloth and several feet of silken material. The woman seen by the porter seemed highly nervous. She was below medium height, frail and rather delicate in appearance and rather shabbily dressed in black. The porter is positive he would be able to identify her.

Reaching the Top

in any calling of life, demands a vigorous body and a keen brain. Without health there is no success. But Electric Bitters is the greatest Health Builder the world has ever known. It compels perfect action of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, purifies and enriches the blood, tones and invigorates the whole system and enables you to stand the wear and tear of your daily work. "After months of suffering from Kidney Trouble," writes W. M. Sherman, of Cushing, Me., "three bottles of Electric Bitters made me feel like a new man." 50c. at Fariss-Klutz Drug Co.

OLD FAMILIES.

Some In Europe and In the Orient That Are Really Ancient.

In Great Britain and on the continent those families pride themselves that count their ancestry through ten generations, but their claims to really ancient lineage seem insignificant when compared with those of certain houses in the orient.

We read that the oldest family in Great Britain, the Mar family in Scotland, may trace its pedigree to 1093. Then, too, we have the Campbells of Argyll, whose date is put down at 1190. The Grosvenor family, that of the Duke of Westminster, refers its origin to the same year that the Conqueror "came over"—i. e., 1066. The Austrian house of Hapsburg goes back farther than that, its date being 952, while the Bourbons proudly mention 864 as the date of their origin.

But none of them is to be mentioned in the same breath with the emperor of Japan, whose office has been filled by members of his family for a period of over 2,500 years, the present ruler being the one hundred and twenty second in the line. The first emperor of Japan sat on the throne about the time when Nebuchadnezzar was flourishing—that is, in 650 B. C.

Another oriental branch, the descendants of Mohammed, presents claims not to be dismissed. The prophet was born in 570, and a list of his descendants has been carefully retained, being duly set forth in a volume kept in Mecca. Little or no doubt exists of the authenticity of the long list of names of Mohammed's descendants as registered in this sacred book.—Harper's Weekly.

"It Beats All."

This is quoted from a letter of M. Stockwell, Hannibal, Mo. "I recently used Foley's Honey and Tar for the first time. To say I am pleased does not half express my feelings. It beats all the remedies I ever used. I contracted a bad cold and was threatened with pneumonia. The first dose gave great relief and one bottle completely cured me." Contains no opiates. Sold by Howard Gardner.

It is a fact that a great percentage of young men who have heretofore worn made-to-order garments have found in Washington Garments more snap and elegance than they have ever been able to get from local tailors.

In building these garments, the manufacturer has taken into consideration the demand for dignified yet vigorous and distinctive garments and the result is obvious.

LARGELY ATTENDED SOCIAL AFFAIR

Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Alderman Give Reception In Honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Alderman—Over Five Hundred Call to Meet Bride and Groom.

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Alderman, 506 West Market street, was the scene of one of the most enjoyable social events of the week last evening, the occasion being a reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Franklin Alderman, who returned from their bridal tour a few days ago. Every appointment of the Alderman residence showed artistic skill and even the smallest detail in the arrangements was brought out most noticeably.

Between five and six hundred friends called during the evening to meet Mr. and Mrs. Alderman and to welcome Mrs. Alderman to the city.

The presence of three brides, whose weddings occurred practically at the same time, added to the enjoyment of the occasion and the charming hostess was congratulated on arranging for the presence of these young ladies, each of whom was daintily attired in her wedding gown.

The receiving party was composed of fifty or more friends of the honorees. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Merrimon met the guests at the door. At the door of the reception hall Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Alderman and Miss Linda Wharton usher introduced the guests to Mr. and Mrs. Haywood Alderman, who headed the receiving line. Others receiving in this room were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Alderman, Mr. and Mrs. Kleemeier, Mrs. Isler and Mr. Haywood Alderman, Jr. The decorations here were effected with pink dahlias and pink candles.

In the library, where punch was served, the decorations were in red. In the dining room the color scheme was effected with lilies of the valley and maidenhair ferns and white tapers mounted on crystal holders.

Orchestral music was furnished by a number of local musicians.

Plan Increase in Membership.

The directors of the Merchants' Association met yesterday in regular session and a number of matters of importance were discussed. The chief business of public interest was the decision to have a membership campaign during the next few months. The matter was gone into at length and the members hope to add materially to their strength as a result of the campaign.
